Learn how to take your home vegetable garden to the next level from Roxanne Christensen, the co-author of the revolutionary sub-acre SPIN-Farming® method. SPIN stands for S-mall P-lot *I*N-tensive!

Sustainable food sources are those that are located near the consumer. So increasingly, people are turning to local sources for foods. Whether you have embraced the “locavore” movement, are a person who loves the taste and freshness of your own home grown vegetables or are thinking about starting a business to provide vegetables to niche markets, SPIN-Gardening will be of interest to you.

Roxanne will show you how to achieve levels of productivity and professionalism that go far beyond current home gardening practices!
