

Halloween Happenings

at The Frelinghuysen Arboretum
353 East Hanover Avenue • Morris Township, NJ 07962

ARTboretum continues this autumn as the visual arts come out to play for Halloween.

Nelson Hancock's exhibit of charmingly evil cucurbits (that's pumpkins in all shapes and sizes) on the slate patio just outside the Haggerty Education Center is both whimsical and fascinatingly scary.

Mr. Hancock teaches Visual Anthropology and Photography at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York, and has deftly carved a plethora of pumpkin and related gourds to keep our thorny and sharp edged succulents and agaves company through Halloween. Bring your little trick or treat along in costume any day from Sunday, October 23 through Halloween, daily 9am—4:30pm, for some great photo opps, inspiration with your own Jack-O-Lantern carving and a Halloween treat at our Front Desk!
