ARCHETYPES OF BOTANIC LITERATURE

There is a surprise awaiting you in the Haggerty Education Center's library. A treasure-trove of botanic literature in all its forms—herbals, monographs, sylva, diaries and more awaits your discovery. Get ready for some goosebumps as you explore the Rare Book Collection with Lesley Parness, Superintendent of Horticultural Education.

Sunday, May 15 - register by May 1

TREASURES OF BOTANIC ILLUSTRATION

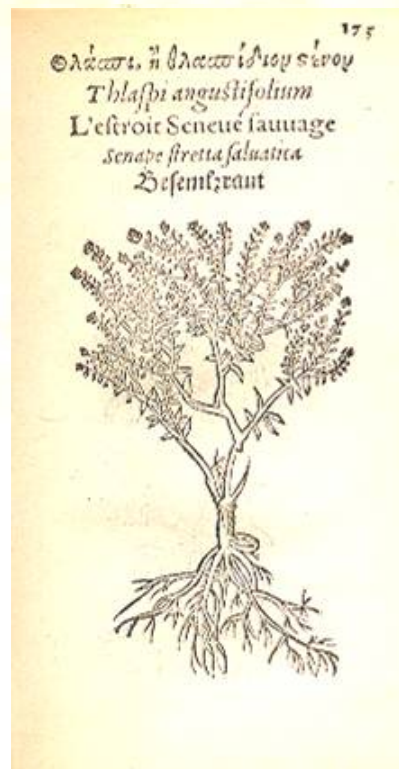

Those book lovers and garden historians who have taken the Archetypes of Botanic Literature are ready to advance to the study of botanic illustration.

A powerpoint presentation on the subject is followed by a viewing and talk on the extraordinary botanic illustration found in the Elizabeth Donnell Kay Rare Book Collection. You must take the Archetypes class first, so that you are familiar with the subject.

Sunday, June 26 - register by June 13

Both programs are from 2pm - 3:30pm
$12. per person

Proceeds from these programs will be used for the conservation of rare books.
