

2015-2016 ANNUAL REPORT

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The past year brought both challenges and triumphs to The Friends of The Frelinghuysen Arboretum. Thankfully, As I complete the third and final year as President of The Friends of the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, my overwhelming feeling is one of gratitude. Gratitude to all those many among staff and members who have contributed so much effort and so many hours to make this organization so successful. So, instead of closing my remarks with thanks as I normally do, I will start by citing the three Friends employees: Karen, Margery and Ellen, who make sure that day-to-day operations run smoothly and respond to all my requests for help with good cheer. The Horticultural Education staff: Lesley, Gwen, Cynthia, Marge and now Beth, along with other part-time support personnel. The programs and events that you schedule and coordinate, along with all the support you give to this organization, is immeasurable.

Of course, the loyal and extremely hard-working members of the Executive Board, who put in thousands – yes, that is thousands – of hours to maintain the level of offerings and services to our members. A very great deal is accomplished by an ever-diminishing group of dedicated people.

We began this year with a Friends' organized trip to Kent and the Cotswolds in England. Twenty nine intrepid travelers visited nineteen gardens in eight days, and loved every minute of it. The itinerary and all travel arrangements were overseen by Sue and Ollie Acheson and Diana Propper was the very able trip leader. We hope to make a return visit to the UK in 2017.

The Gingerbread Wonderland had over 12,000 visitors, with hundreds of volunteer hours staffed by many of you. The Community Gardens conference was a sellout as always and the Friends continued their Great Speakers series with programs by Richard Hartlage, Tovah

Martin, William Bryant Logan and Andrea Wulf. Most exciting was Whole Foods Day on April 20, when 5% of its sales that day was donated to the Friends. We came out in such numbers that the store had its biggest Wednesday ever. The $2300 receipts will be used to sponsor a Community Gardens Open Gate program in July. Read Arboretum Leaves and the Friends' website for more information about this exciting upcoming event.

Our Plant Sale was as always a great success. Thanks to our many volunteers and loyal shoppers, the less than ideal weather proved to be no obstacle. Ilona Ontscherenki once again acted as very able Chair.

The Friends made grants totaling $18,000 to the Morris County Park Commission this year, funding an intern, appraisals relating to the Julia Appleton Cross Library, plants and seeds, and conference fees for staff among other items. Plants left from the Plant Sale were also donated for the gardens.

There were bittersweet moments this year. We said farewell to Marge Hulstrunk, our incomparable Volunteer Coordinator, in January. We also welcome the new Volunteer Coordinator, Beth Feldman, and look forward to working with her.

And most poignant of all, we are bidding adieu to Sue and Ollie Acheson, who are moving to North Carolina. It would be impossible to overstate the contributions that the Achesons have made to the Friends over the years. Sue has been a Board member, filling virtually every office and committee. Most important, she was Plant Sale Chair for almost every year of the twenty-one year history of that event. Whenever there was a job to be done, and help requested, Sue's hand was the first to go up. As for Ollie, he designed and ran our website, devoting thousands of hours to this over time. In addition, he advised the Friends on technical and audio-visual use and purchases, counseled on business and financial matters, acted as official photographer, built shelves and managed finances for the Plant Sale and probably six or seven others things that I have forgotten. These are difficult shoes to fill.

In addition to several vacancies from the prior year, we had three resignations from the Board this year. While we have found 'a few good men (women') it is clear that we had many unfilled needs. Our ability to continue to have events such as the one we will enjoy today will be uncertain if new people do not step forward. Each Board member today is wearing a name badge. Please stop to talk with one of us. There are many openings, some requiring minimal time. We are a friendly group and will work with you to see where you might find an opportunity that best suits each individual.

As always, we thank everyone for continuing to support this wonderful treasure, the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, and the mission of the Friends. We have accomplished a great deal, and with the guidance of the very able officers you will be electing today, look forward to even greater things to come.

BLACKBURN SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE

Chair: Betsy Martone

Each year the Benjamin C. Blackburn Scholarship is awarded to students enrolled in the Landscape and Horticultural Technology Department of the County College of Morris. The Landscape Department worked closely with the Friends to publicize the scholarship and help potential applicants complete the necessary requirements for consideration.

This year two applicants were chosen to receive scholarships amounting to $1000.00 each. Nisha Khanna of Edison has recently given up a long and successful computer software career in order to pursue her interest in landscape design. She has completed the Rutgers Master Gardener Program and has recently started an internship at AJF Landscape Design, a company known for its organic and sustainable approach to the complete design process.

Douglas DeAndrea of Brookside is currently the owner of DeAndrea Landscaping, LLC. He is enrolled at CCM and has been accepted into the International Honor Society Phi Theta Kappa. When not busy at school or working in the landscape industry, Douglas volunteers as a youth sponsor at his church.

BUS TRIP COMMITTEE

Chair: Diana Propper

A very busy year for garden travel!

On June 2-3, 2015, in collaboration with Mary Jasch of Dig-It! Magazine, we were off for a two day visit to four gardens on Long Island. The first day amidst torrential rains, we visited the gardens at the Nassau County Museum of Art originally designed by Marian Cruger Coffin and had a guided tour of the fabulous Planting Fields Arboretum. Both gardens were spectacular despite the weather. En route to our hotel, the bus had the unfortunate mishap of getting stuck whilst ascending a very steep hill. We very patiently awaited the arrival of a tow truck to dislodge the bus and were all glad to arrive at our beautiful hotel accommodations on the water in Riverhead. The next day, the sun shone beautifully during the highlight of the trip, the gardens at Long House Reserve where sculptures by Chihuly, de Kooning, Yoko Ono and others were displayed throughout landscapes that were artworks in and of themselves. Our final stops before heading home were the eccentric gardens of the Madoo Conservancy and the Martin Viette Nursery.

On September 7, 2015 we departed for our highly anticipated 10 day trip, beautifully arranged by Sue and Ollie Acheson, to the Cotswolds and Kent in England. From day one when we toured the spectacular gardens of His Royal Highness Prince Charles at Highgrove we saw nothing but the most amazing array of gardens. The trip included many infamous gardens such as Hidcote, Sissinghurst and Great Dixter among others, as well as many wonderful smaller private gardens with guided tours given by their owners. All in all we toured 18 spectacular gardens, visited Whichford Pottery and the beautiful historic Cotswold town of Broadway. Many thanks to Sue and Ollie for a wonderful and truly memorable trip.

The following month on October 15, 2015 we spent a beautiful, warm and sunny fall day touring and relaxing in the Gardens at Wave Hill overlooking the Hudson River. Upon arrival, we split-up into two groups for privately guided tours of the gardens by two wonderfully knowledgeable docents. After a catered lunch on the terrace overlooking the river, everyone was free to visit the art exhibit, spend more time exploring the gardens, shop or just relax in one of the famous Wave Hill Chairs overlooking the spectacular view. A great time was had by all.

On March 8, 2016 we made our annual trip to the Philadelphia Flower Show. This year's theme celebrated the centennial anniversary of Our National Park Service. The displays captured the natural beauty and vistas of our Nation's many treasured National Parks. Many of our attendees were pleased to see these Parks honored. In addition, there were wonderful floral displays to see, many interesting lectures and demonstrations to attend as well as plenty of shopping opportunities to fill the day.

On May 24, 2016 we headed to the New York Botanical Garden for the day. A heavy rain during our bus ride threatened to dampen the day but fortunately dissipated upon arrival. We split-up into two groups for a guided tour of the Native Plant Garden after which everyone was free to further explore on their own. Many attended the American Impressionism Exhibit which included original artworks by Childe Hassam, John Singer Sargent and others. A beautiful garden reminiscent of the era was on display in the Enid A. Haupt Conservatory. Many of us also took the opportunity to visit the Perennial Garden and the Rock Garden which looked particularly spectacular. As always, there is so much to see in this amazing Garden and never enough time.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

Chair: Sonnie Reutelhuber

The Hospitality Committee and Board presented the refreshments at the Members New Year's Party in January. It was attended by over 125 people plus the staff. Refreshments consisted of savories, sweets, coffee and wine. The board provided refreshments along with catered cupcakes and sandwiches and a cake for Marjorie Hulstrunk. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

LIBRARY AND RARE BOOK COMMITTEE

Chair: Judy Snow

In September 2015 Lesley Parness presented a request to the Board for a grant of $6,000 to fund an appraisal of the Elizabeth Donnell Kay Rare Book Collection. Previous appraisals were outdated and a new one was needed for insurance purposes. An updated inventory following an internationally accepted format would allow the collection to be shared digitally with other libraries, to be used by scholars, and to promote it to potential funders. The board voted to approve the proposal.

The appraisal of the books was carried out over a two-day period in November by Rob and Allison Petrilla, highly qualified members of the American Antiquarian Booksellers and other rare book organizations. They appraised the collection of 253 rare books with a replacement value of $903,000. Lesley Parness met with Dave Helmer of the Morris County Parks Commission to give him a report of the appraisal.

In October and November, Lesley Parness and Judy Snow met with members of the Morristown Garden Club to discuss a proposal that would be presented to the Garden Club of American/New Jersey chapter. A proposal prepared by Lesley, titled "The History of Healing—Herbals to Medical Botany," was submitted to the club in November. Unfortunately, due to a misunderstanding, the club missed the GCA/NJ deadline. It will be resubmitted next year.

Lesley Parness presented several programs during the year about rare books in the collection, including an unusual one in March titled "Cooking the Books," in collaboration with Cynthia Triolo, which was very well attended. Recipes were prepared from centuries-old books and enjoyed by the participants.

Judy Snow arranged for the donation of approximately 16 boxes of garden books remaining from the Visiting Nurse Association of Somerset Hills rummage sales in October and May to the Arboretum. The sale of the books on the lobby cart benefits the conservation of the rare book collection.

Financial report: Income from book programs presented by Lesley ($721) went toward conservation of the rare books. Proceeds from the cart sales totaled $1,061. Donations of $5,500 were received for conservation of the collection, for total income of $7,282. Expenses for supplies were $595. The appraisal cost $5,000 and was funded separately by the Board.

Lesley Parness visited the Conservation Center for Art and Historic Artifacts (CCAHA) in Philadelphia in March to discuss an assessment of the needs of the Rare Book Collection. The CCHCA would provide the Morris County Park Commission with expert preservation guidance to develop specifications for a storage space for the horticultural rare book collection in the Frelinghuysen mansion. Their recommendations would cover criteria and general specifications for storage space, environmental systems (HVAC, light, etc.), fire detection and suppression, and security. Funding for this phase of the project would total $3,150. The proposal was approved.

MEMBERSHIP

Chair: Sally Hensen

A number of initiatives were undertaken to continue to assess members' understanding and appreciation of benefits offered by the organization. A survey sent to all members had a very good response and will be used to evaluate current and future offerings.

Efforts by volunteers at the Plant Sale, Whole Foods 5% Day and the Community Gardens Conference resulted in new memberships. In the coming year there are plans to survey non-renewing memberships, and to recruit additional members from among those who receive the weekly email blasts.

Total memberships as of May 27, 2016, numbered 1020. Among those are Family and Extended Family of approximately 300, which reflect a far larger number of actual participants.

In the coming year, a newly formed Membership Committee will explore avenues to attract new members, along with continued efforts to make membership more rewarding for longtime members of the Friends.

PLANT SALE

Chair: Ilona Ontscherenki

The 21th Annual FOFA Plant Sale fundraiser was held at the arboretum April 29th - May 1st. Although the weather was a bit threatening for the Members' shopping on Friday evening (preregistration for this free event was again over 200), Saturday weather was warm and sunny and brought many shoppers. We sold so much of our inventory that the remainder was moved into the tent at closing and we were all under the tent on Sunday. Despite the rain on our third day, we had a very good turnout and benefited from good sales throughout the day.

Plant stock was lower than last year, resulting in lower sales, especially on Sunday, by when much of the inventory was depleted. Final revenue and expense nos. were not available at the time of this report. Seventeen presale orders for selected plants totaling over $2500 were taken at the Wednesday evening presale talk three weeks before the sale, which was just slightly behind the prior year. Last year, the talk was on a sunny Saturday morning instead of a cold, gloomy Wed. evening. Less than half the 75 registrants came out that night, but over half of those who did placed orders and two of those orders totaled over $400 each for the first time. Throughout the sale, the trend of increasing credit card sales also continued this year.

A wonderful team of volunteers was the key to the success of this year's sale. All volunteers were well motivated, with many repeating from past years, and there was little absenteeism throughout the setup week. The Horticultural staff at the arboretum were again exceptional in the support they provided throughout the sale and afterwards. During the sale, skilled Plant Experts provided extensive support to the shoppers and helped emphasize the educational aspect the Friends hope to bring to this fundraiser.

No vendors were solicited to participate this year due to changing MCPC liability requirements, however, our new insurance agent did provide useful advice on how to manage potential vendors at future events, whether the Plant Sale or a new program.

An after sale to volunteers was held again on the Tuesday following the sale and was well attended. The remaining plant material, valued at just over three thousand dollars, was then donated to the MCPC for use throughout the various gardens.

At the sale, Sue Acheson and Karen Curry were notified that a pair of 'Princeton Gold' ilex opaca had been planted at the arboretum in recognition of their many years of dedication to the sale during its first twenty years. (Technical problems have delayed the installation of signs, but they were given a map noting the location of their trees.) Their hard work and dedication over the past two decades has made this event one of the premiere plant sales in the tri-state region and we are all thankful for their efforts, which inspire us all to continue in their footsteps!

YOUTH EDUCATION

Chair: Larisa Bohensky

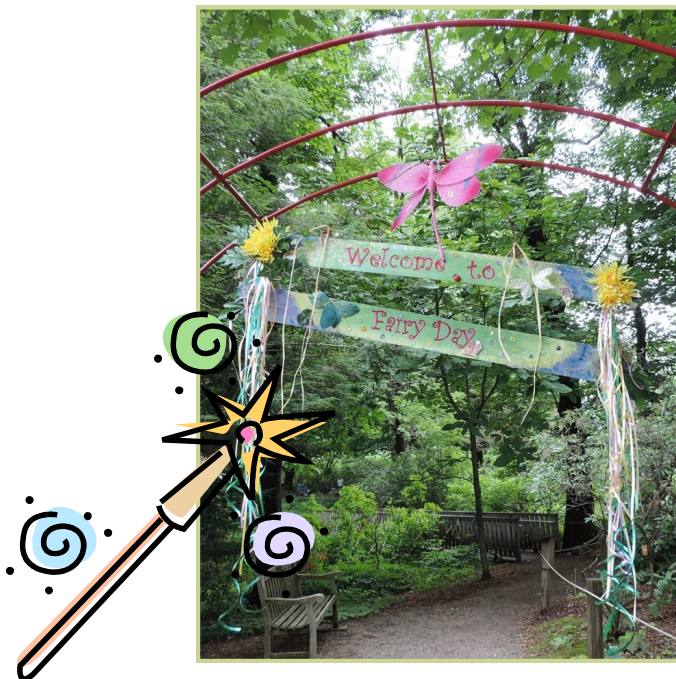

Youth Education programs remain very popular at the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, attracting many young people, visitors and new members.

Many of the young visitors come on school field trips during spring and fall. Our volunteers and staff conducted 76 workshops for 1700 children and introduced them to seed and seedling planting and exposing them to the wonder of plants and the beauty of the Arboretum.

There were also 8 groups of home schooled children that came to learn about plants and to enjoy visiting the many beautiful gardens in the Arboretum. "Branching Out!" is a very popular gardening program where children ages 5 to 13 learn to cultivate soil, plant flowers and vegetables, tend their plots and harvest their crops. The children also do some cooking and nature related crafts. Last summer, 54 children participated. This spring there are 56. Twelve young volunteers, mostly "Branching Out!" alumni, help with the program.

Fifteen groups of cub scouts and girl scouts (150 kids) came for after school workshops to earn their various badges. In addition, six large workshops were conducted for 1800 Girl Scouts of Northern New Jersey. A further 1100 Girl Scouts came to 4 scouts-only evenings to see the Gingerbread Exhibit and take part in a craft project. Ten adult and 6 youth volunteers helped with the Gingerbread Program.

A new program, "Seedlings" was started last fall for children ages 3-4. The program focuses on the plants growing in the gardens and reading a related story. Eleven children participated.
